Listening Session

Riverside County Board of Supervisors
Chambers

4080 Lemon Street, Riverside, CA

With the closure of the Developmental Centers and the state moving away from institutional living, it is imperative that the Legislature pay close attention to how I/DD individuals are being served in their communities and by the state.

Assemblymember Frazier plans to continue the Select Committee on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities when the Legislature convenes a new session in 2019. Meanwhile he wants to carry on the work started by the Committee and hold listening tours in local communities around California. The Riverside Town Hall is free and open to the public. If you are a member of the I/DD community, this is your chance to talk directly to the Legislature about your needs, your experiences with the Regional Centers and anything else you feel the Legislature should know.
